AN IMPORTANT BUDGET.

Apportionment acted on the budget for 1891 presented by the Board of Education. Several very important items were brought up, and the requests for new appropriations seemed reasonable, though some were brought before the notice of the Board in a slovenly way, which reflects too creditably on the Board of Education.

For instance, an increase of nearly one hundred thousand dollars over the appropriation for the current year was naked for 1891, to be applied to salaries for new teachers and for the minimum salary of $750 for teachers who have served for fourteen years. But no fitting statement regarding these teachers was made, and consequently the Board of Estimate decided not to act on this point until the Board of Education shall present a more comprehensive view of the matter.

New schools, improved sanitation for existing ones, and a more reasonable proportion between the pay of male and female teachers in the night schools, where women receive much less than men, were some of the most seasonable points brought up. The appropriation for the schools should be ample, and that it may be so the Board of Estimate needs to understand clearly to what it is to be applied. This is the only economy which should be practised in the matter.

obtain such a decent salary should be among white double marguarites, offered. The disposition of the Board of Estimate was to be liberal and judicious, but it is only right that it should insist on a good understanding of the school

Saturday afternoon's audience at the Lee Avenue Acatiemy did not see the Professor's wonderful transformation of the into coin,
but they were content to watch him flip cards ever so dexterously into the gallery.
The magician placed the matter in the bands of the Brookiyn police, but results were so exasperatingly slow that he sought to apprehend the thief.
Manager Morton, of Herrmann's Gaiety
